

A black and white map of the state of New Mexico. The state's outline is shown with a thick black line. Three locations are marked: Albuquerque is marked with a solid black circle in the upper-left quadrant; WIPP is marked with a solid black star in the lower-right quadrant; and El Paso is marked with a solid black circle on the southern border, near the Texas border. The names of these locations are printed in a sans-serif font near their respective markers.
